

TOM NEWBY SCHOOL EXAMINATION

Subject	English Paper 2: Comprehension and Language	Examiner	Miss L. Ward
Date	13 November 2017	Total marks	40
Session	1	Duration	1h30mins
Grade	5	Moderator	Mrs A Singh
Special instructions/ Equipment		Dictionaries may not be used. Highlighters are allowed.

This Exam has been compiled using notes and information contained in the Tom Newby School book. The marking memorandum has been compiled accordingly. While alternative responses will be given due acknowledgement, the official memorandum will be considered a priority document to ensure uniformity of marking. Time allocation on this examination includes provision for concession.

Name and Surname: _____

Class: _____

Instructions:

- This paper is made up of Section A: Comprehension (25 marks) and Section B: Language (15 marks).
- Read the questions FIRST and then the passage.
- Answer ALL questions on the question paper.
- Answer in full sentences, unless otherwise stated.
- Read all questions carefully and answer according to the mark allocation per question.
- Highlight important information in the question and the passage.
- Write neatly and legibly.
- Take your time and enjoy the paper.

The difference between ordinary and extraordinary is just that little "extra"

40

Section A: Comprehension (25 marks)

Read the questions first, then read the passage. Thereafter, answer the questions below.

Questions:

1. Describe three characteristics of ruby chocolate. (3)

2. After reading paragraph 1, who do you think a 'chocoholic' refers to? (1)

3. What mood is created in the first paragraph? (1)

4. How long did it take Barry Callebaut and his team to create ruby chocolate? (1)

5. State whether the following sentence is true or false. If false, correct the statement. (2)

Ruby chocolate is just white chocolate mixed with red food colouring and berry juice.

6. Why do you think Barry Callebaut is keeping the recipe for ruby chocolate a secret? (2)

7. Where and when did chocolate originate? (2)

8. Compare the chocolate that the ancient Mayan and Aztec enjoyed, to the milk chocolate we buy today? (2)

9. Quote a sentence from paragraph 3, which shows that the ancient Central American civilizations believed that chocolate was very valuable and special. (2)
-
-
10. In the 1500s, who was responsible for bringing the main ingredient to produce chocolate? (1)
-
11. Which company first created white chocolate? (1)
-
12. Which type of chocolate was created in the 1800s? Underline the correct answer. (1)
- A – Dark chocolate
- B – Milk chocolate
- C – White chocolate
- D – Ruby chocolate
13. What evidence is there in paragraph 3 to suggest that chocolate is a popular food? (1)
-
14. Explain why Barry Callebaut believes that ruby chocolate will become popular especially among young people. (2)
-
-
-
-
15. Do you think that ruby chocolate will be a success? Explain your answer. (2)
-
-
-
16. How long will consumers have to wait before being able to taste the new ruby chocolate? (1)
-

Total: 25 marks

Word box

chocolatier – a person who makes chocolate.

foodie – a person who is particularly interested in fancy food.

culinary – related to food or cooking.

'Ruby' becomes first new natural colour of chocolate in over 80 years

1

Attention

all chocoholics! A Swiss chocolatier, Barry Callebaut, has created a new mouth-watering type of chocolate. Soon, you may be able to choose between dark chocolate, milk chocolate, white chocolate and...ruby chocolate! Yes, Barry Callebaut's new type of chocolate is pink in colour and apparently has a unique berry-fruitiness and a smooth, creamy texture.

2

How is

this new type of chocolate made? For now, the recipe remains top secret, but the creators of this new chocolate have been working on the formula for thirteen years. What we do know is that the pink colour and unusual fruity flavour are, according to Barry Callebaut, not created using any artificial food colouring or added berry flavouring, but come naturally from the specially selected cocoa beans themselves. Only unique ruby cocoa beans can be used to make this chocolate. The beans are then processed in an original and different way to achieve the colour and flavour.

3

It will be the first new kind of chocolate to be released in over 80 years! Chocolate was first enjoyed as a bitter drink by Central American civilizations like the Aztecs and Mayans over four thousand years ago. They called it 'The Drink of the Gods' and it was reserved for only the greatest warriors, rulers and priests. In the 1500s, Spanish explorers brought cacao beans from Central America to Europe, where scientists later developed a way to make solid chocolate, which could be eaten in the form of chocolate bars. By the late 1800s, companies like Lindt and Cadbury had perfected a new, sweeter, creamier type, called milk chocolate, and it was a huge hit. The third, most recent type of chocolate, white chocolate, was created by Nestlé in 1930. With about seven and a half million tons of chocolate consumed in 2016, it is clear that all three types of chocolate are still among the world's most popular treats.

4

Barry

Callebaut hopes that his new ruby chocolate will be just as popular, especially among fashionable young 'foodies' who love to post photographs of colourful culinary creations on Instagram and other social media. However, if you are dying to find out whether the new ruby chocolate tastes as good as it looks, you will have to be patient, because Callebaut says that it could be over a year before ruby chocolate will be available in your supermarket.

Section B: Language (15 marks)

Read the advertisement below to answer the questions that follow.

This Fanta Orange advertisement was created using edible paper that tasted like the new flavour of Fanta so that customers could taste the product by actually tasting the advertisement.

The advertisement is set against a bright orange background. At the top left is the Fanta logo. The text is written in a playful, hand-drawn style with various icons like a sun, a lemon, a flower, and a slice of orange. The text describes the taste of Fanta Orange as a burst of sunshine, sweet and tangy, surprising and juicy, and compares it to a bouquet of flowers. It ends with a call to action to tear off a piece of the page and pop it in your mouth.

Fanta LIKE A BURST OF SUNSHINE
 through a cool wisp of wind,
 IT'S SWEET AND TANGY, SURPRISING AND JUICY.
 IT TICKLES LIKE A DELICIOUS SECRET THAT YOU CANNOT BEAR TO SHARE.
 AND HOW LUSH IT FEELS AT EVERY SP like an instant whiff of a fresh bouquet of flowers in spring!
 With a quick, sharp jolt of tart and a sudden burst of sugary-citrusy-sweetness,
 IT LEAVES YOUR TONGUE TINGLING PLEASANTLY.
 THEN, IT CURLS DELICIOUSLY AROUND YOUR TASTE BUDS, TANTALIZING YOUR IMAGINATION & ripples happily down your spine.
 ARE YOU STILL WITH US? GREAT! CAUSE WE WOULD LIKE YOU TO TRY FANTA'S NEW TASTE, DELICIOUSLY ORANGE. YES, RIGHT NOW!
JUST TEAR OFF A PIECE OF THIS PAGE
 POP IN YOUR MOUTH

Questions:

1. Find a synonym in advertisement for the word:

immediate - _____ (1)

2. Find an antonym for the word:

bitter - _____ (1)

3. Read the sentence below and write down one example for each Part of Speech that is listed.

Like an instant whiff of a fresh bouquet of flowers in spring, it leaves your tongue tingling pleasantly, then it curls deliciously around your taste buds, tantalising your imagination, and ripples happily down your spine.

a) Collective noun _____ (1)

b) Verb _____ (1)

c) Adverb _____ (1)

d) Conjunction _____ (1)

e) Preposition _____ (1)

4. Write one example of a simile. Make sure to write the complete simile. (1)

5. Correct the spelling error in the sentence below. Write down only the corrected word.

Cause we would like you to try Fanta's new taste.

_____ (1)

6. Explain how the advertiser has used the AIDA principle to persuade people to buy the product. (4)

7. Refer to the quote in bold below and identify what type of sentence it is. Underline the correct answer.

“Great!” (1)

- A – a command
- B – a statement
- C – a question
- D – an exclamation

8. Circle the subject in the sentence below.

The paper tastes like Fanta Orange. (1)

Total: 15 marks

GRAND TOTAL: 40 MARKS