The Human Rights Watch has issued a negative report on human rights abuses in the wine and fruit farming industries in the Western Cape.

Inhumane conditions

A farm worker, referred to as Isaak S, described how for over a decade he and his family have lived in a hovel with no amenities such as electricity or running water. The former pig pen does not even have appropriate shelter and coverage to protect his wife and children from the elements.

According to the report, when Isaak requested a better place to live he was told by his employer that other farm workers had to 'be gotten rid of' before his needs could be addressed. Ten years later, he and his family still live in the same pig stall.

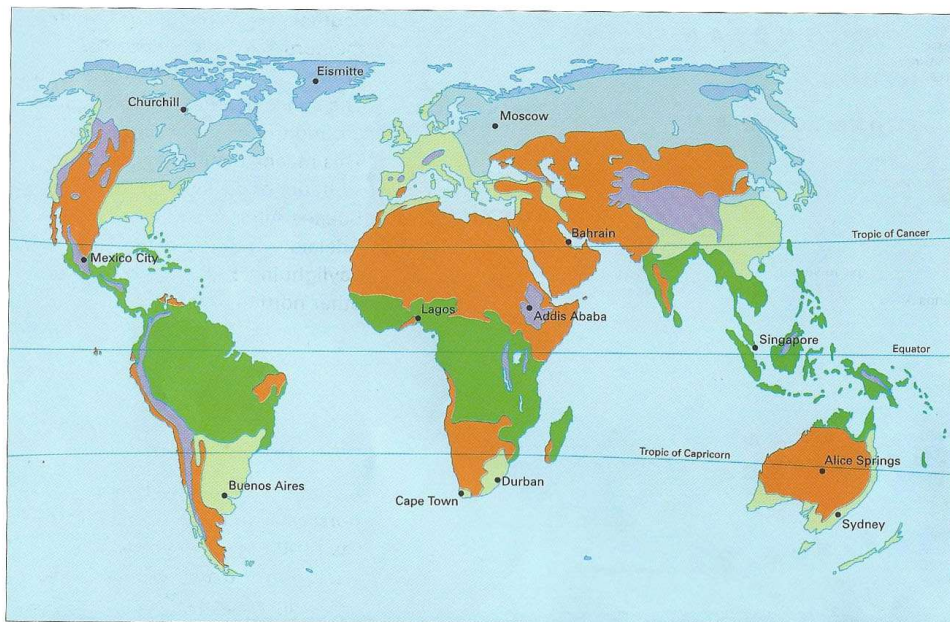

In a separate case, Dino M, who works with pesticides every day, told how he had been given inadequate protective clothing to wear while working with the toxic chemicals. According to his testimony, he received only gloves and overalls which did not completely shield him from the harmful pesticides. In attempts to block the spray of chemicals he, along with other workers, covered their faces with their caps.

9.3.1 Do you think that Dino M was justified in his complaint? Explain your answer. (2)

9.3.2 After reading about the conditions under which Isaak S and his family were living. What conclusion can you make about his employers character. (1)

9.3.3 If you were Isaak S's employer, suggest one thing you could do to help him and his family. (1)
